family gathered about me, took me to the fire, & more warmed me with their pitying words than the fire did.

I carried a full stomach to a good bed that night. And I wor-shiped those people, knowing no gods but these nor de-siring any other.

II

When two weeks had gone by, from that time, my former life had dimmed to a dream. It seemed to me as if I had always been a part of this dear good loving family.

I called Mr. Cadav
father & his wife
Jimmy & Mary & G
were brother & si
to me. Grace
the one that saved
She was eighteen
old, & so fair & shi & so sweet and so un
proachably beau
that it was heaven
to look at her face & her voice.

Business was perous, & we were
blithe & happy as b
I became useful
ways & felt the gratif
tion of knowing
was earning the b
I ate. I learned to Grace in decorati